Frankfort Board Votes To Outlaw Septic Tanks

A sanitary sewer system for the Village of Frankfort may soon get underway. The legal process of passing an ordinance providing for the issuance of general obligation and revenue bonds to finance the project was done at Monday night's meeting, an adjourned meeting of the regular board meeting the preceding Monday.

An ordinance prohibiting the use of septic tanks was also executed, which will become effective one year from the date of passage or when the sanitary sewer system is completed, whichever is sooner.

The item of the condemnation suit in order to straighten Kansas st., was also settled at the board meeting. By mutual agreement between the attorney for the village, Albert H. Krusemark and attorneys for Mrs. Anna Mitchell, owner of the home to be condemned, Francis J. Loughran and John Lunch, the village will pay a sum of $12,500 to Mrs. Mitchell.

Mayor George Sangmeister and Trustees Glenn Warning and Lynn Kohlman, who returned in time for the board meeting from Springfield where they attended the Illinois Municipal League convention, reported on their 30-day visit. Discussed at the convention were matters of zoning, planning, water sources and other matters of interest to governing bodies.

Asks Mokena Board To Act On Subd. Ordinance

The Mokena Village board was urged to take action on a proposed ordinance to control subdivisions within the Village and a mile and a half radius of its corporate limits when it met last week but no action was taken.

The request for action by the board was made by Robert Gauthier, president of Mokena grade school board which is concerned, he pointed out, in the growth of the community.

"I think such an ordinance should be passed as soon as possible," Mr. Gauthier said. "Industry interested in locating here would feel safe to come in if assured such sites would not be encroached upon. The land-use map and subdivision ordinance would give the village board double control."

Frankfort and Mokena joined forces last year and hired Planning engineers to draft a land use map for the area to aid in guiding the growth here. These engineers also drew up model subdivision and zoning ordinances.

Frankfort has adopted the subdivision ordinance and expects to adopt the land use map and some amendments to its zoning code soon. Mokena has adopted the land use map but has been marking time on the subdivision ordinance.

Mr. Gauthier also informed the board that the Mokena school district had been approached by Edward G. Feely, representing a group of subdividers opening a development east of U.S. 45 off 191st street, and Albert H. Krusemark, attorney for the group, with a proposal to form a new school district.

That part of the subdivision where work is now progressing is in Summit Hill school district. The Mokena school district's east boundary at 191st street, it was said, is about a quarter mile west of U.S. 45.

Orland Board Expects To Pass Sewer Ordinance

The Orland Park village board that has been discussing plans for a central sewer system for that community for the past several months adjourned its meeting Monday to next Monday night for the specific purpose of furthering details of the improvement.

At its meeting next Monday the board expects to agree upon an ordinance which will set up the legal details necessary to launch the sanitary sewer program.

The village is more fortunate than its neighbors in that the Chicago sanitary district is building a sewage treatment plant at Orland which will take care of a population of approximately 8,000.

For several months now the trustees have been studying plans routing the proposed sewer mains thru the community and believes they have been worked out satisfactorily.

The ordinance scheduled for passage next Monday will bring the village a step closer to modernizing the disposal of sanitary wastes.

The proposed program also includes improvement of the Water supply of the village. Orland Park has grown so rapidly in the past year that more water is needed.

The board at its meeting Monday also gave tentative approval to the plat of a subdivision east of the village on the south side of 143rd street. The plat shows 170 lots and the builder, Cliff Mehling, told the board that he proposes to build homes in the $30,000 class.

The board also gave approval of a building permit for a machine repair shop to be located on U.S. 45.

The annual CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) drive in Will county is to be held next Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 16 and 17.

Announcement of the program will be made in all the churches of the area next Sunday, Nov. 15, and the subject will be the theme of many sermons.

James F. Tilsy, of Frankfort township, is chairman of the board of CROP of Will county and as such is in charge of the annual campaign.

Farmers will be asked to contribute either grain or cash. The money will be used to buy farm products for shipment overseas. Trains will be made up to carry the contributions to ports for shipment overseas.

Gov. William G. Stratton has proclaimed November as CROP month in Illinois, "a time when the farmers of the state can share their harvest and others to give money to help the churches share our surplus food with those people thru out the world who are really hungry."

The church organizations participating in the program are: American Friends Service Committee, (AFSC); Catholic Relief Services, (CRS); Lutheran World Relief, (LWR); Mennonite Central Committee, (MCC); National Association of Evangelicals (NAE); and Church World Service (CWS).

Mr. Tilsy explained that gifts could be made thru any of the listed agencies. "Thank you receipts" will be sent to the donors. The chairman reminded persons who plan to give checks to make them payable to "CROP of Will County."

The reasons back of CROP have been set forth many times. Summarized those who support the movement point out it is based on the belief that as Christians it is a privilege to share blessings . . . that each person for his own good needs to help others personally and that such personal help is most effectively given thru the church agencies equipped to meet needs promptly and deliver gifts in the spirit of friendship without question of race, creed or nationality.

Commend 4 L-W Seniors For Their Scholarship

Four seniors at Lincoln-Way high school have been cited for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test last spring. Each has received a formal "Letter of Commendation" from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Principal A. Hunter Chapman, today announced they are: Jonelle Roberson, Catherine Beattie of New Lenox, Judy Marcec, Mokena; and Margie Ardaugh, Manhattan.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, declares:

"Letters of Commendation" are being awarded to some 27,000 students from all over the United States in recognition of high performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test. While these bright youngsters did not achieve the status of semifinalists in the 1959-60 Merit program, they are so outstanding that we wish to single them out for special attention. We send these letters to provide tangible recognition of superior ability, and it is our earnest hope that the recipients will continue their education, and thus benefit not only themselves but the entire country."

The Merit Scholarship program is now in its fifth year. Founded in 1955 with grants of twenty million dollars from the Ford Foundation, and $500,000 from the Carnegie Corporation, it now has more than one hundred sponsors including business and industrial organizations, foundations and other groups. More than one and one-half million students have been tested in the annual academic competitions. Currently 3,000 of the country's most able students hold Merit Scholarships at 400 colleges and universities. Fifteen million dollars have already been committed for these awards.

Semifinalists and commended students receive many scholarships apart from the merit program. NMSC estimates that more than nine million dollars in scholarships for the freshman year alone will be awarded these students in addition to the regular merit awards.

The Lorimer deacons voted to accept the affiliation of Country Club Hills Baptist church with their church. The Rev. Reaka and men from his church will meet with the Rev. McDill of Lorimer to discuss problems concerning organization as they arise. Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and at 7:00 p.m. Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m.

The chairman of the departments met this past week in Frank Miller's home to choose committee members.

The Carolers choir, new youth choir composed of third graders and up, are meeting regularly Tuesday afternoons after school at the parsonage. They will assist the adult choir in the Christmas concert at Willowview school Dec. 22. The Rev. Indall Pew announced that a "pastor's class" for young people considering church membership will be held in the Study of the parsonage Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock. Any children who are interested may contact him.

The Christian Women's Fellowship general meeting has been changed to the third Wednesday due to Thanksgiving, and meets at 8:30 in Willowview school Nov. 18. ST. JOSEPH MISSION CHURCH

Another "first" for Country Club Hills! The Catholic church, presently under construction, is being erected by volunteers. Normally a church is erected in an area after the archdiocese establishes a parish and a pastor is assigned, the entire procedure being supervised by the Chancery office. In this instance, Country Club Hills Catholics - a blending of all nationalities - have taken hold of the reins and are proceeding on their own initiative and at their own cost to erect a church, which when completed, will be turned over to the archdiocese.

Since it is actually the first time anything like this has been tried within the Catholic church in the area, it is evoking considerable interest and could establish a pattern for other new communities. While some basic construction has been contracted, a great portion of labor will be performed by volunteers. Appreciation should be extended to the volunteers of other faiths who have offered their services - a living example of the American way of life.

The idea to erect the new building resulted from a meeting of the Ushers' club called to see what could be arranged to make it easier for all families to attend mass at the mission. Actually less than half of the families, (which number almost 300) could arrange to have one party get to the early mass and then the other party rush back for the second. Masses are presently being said at 7:30 and 8:30 each Sunday morning in the Willowview school.

Father Joseph Burke, pastor of St. Joseph's church at Homewood, agreed that the building of a new church, even though temporary, was an excellent idea. All agreed that the plan would be feasible only if it could be a parish project accomplished with volunteer labor. Two days later, Oct. 26, plans were made from the pulpit and volunteers solicited. A gratifying number responded and most of the trades were represented. This generous response indicated to the originators of the idea that their enthusiasm was parish-wide and that they should proceed with their plans. Blueprints were completed and nightly meetings held. Various committees were set up to cover construction, fund raising, finance, publicity, purchasing and the completion of the census. Alois Lewandoski heads a fund raising committee that will organize a block-by-block solicitation of funds to defray expenses for contracted labor and necessary materials. Surveying and ground grading have been accomplished and ground was actually broken 10 days after the initial meeting was held. It is the hope of all that the building will be completed to such a point that midnight Mass might be offered in it on Christmas Eve.

Overall dimensions of the building will be approximately 28 by 80 feet. The front will be a combination of brick and frame with a frame siding that will harmonize with the general motif of Country Club Hills. Allowances will be made to apply brick sometime in the future around the remainder of the church to allow the building to be used for social functions by merely drawing collapsible curtains. Lavatory facilities will be built in initially as well as a small kitchen to be used in the event of parties and other social events.

A meeting of all Catholics in Country Club Hills was well attended Nov. 5, at Willowview school. William Schomburg was general chairman. A meeting of Catholic women in the area is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 13 in the city hall at 8:15 p.m. Mrs. William Schomburg will preside over this meeting which is intended to organize the women into various committees to assist the men in whatever way possible. Mrs. John Thomas is chairman of a committee to provide volunteer workmen with coffee. Names of those on committees will be announced later.

The newly organized choir meeting temporarily Wednesday evenings, had an excellent beginning at their first meeting Nov. 4th at the home of Mrs. J.L. Merriam - 18101 Baker. Thomas Quigley, director, announces that there is a need for a few more men singers. Anyone interested may contact him at Sy 9-5866.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

WOMAN'S CLUB
At the last meeting of the Woman's club, Nov. 4 at Willowview, it was announced that the recent spaghetti dinner was a great success. Proceeds were put into the special account at Bremen State bank in Tinley Park toward the future Community Center. Mrs. John Thomas, club president, announced that any woman interested in joining the club is invited to attend the "Get-Acquainted Tea" to be held Nov. 18 in the all-purpose room at Willowview school at 8 p.m. Members will entertain non-members and new members at this function. Mrs. Thomas also announced that a carnival is planned for next June, details to be available at a later date. Many members signed up for reservations at the Lincoln Heights restaurant where the Club is having its "Dutch Treat" dinner Thursday, Dec. 10. A special entertainment is being planned and a gay evening is anticipated by all, with 50¢ comic grab bag gifts, contributed by those present. Members were reminded that at the next meeting, new officers will be elected. At least two and not more than four nominations may be made for each office. The first four offices must be nominated from the floor. Nominees must be paid up, active members who have attended at least six meetings. Votes may be cast only by those who were paid members by this last October. Installation of the new officers will take place January, with a special ceremony. New officers shall take over with preparations for the dance planned for Feb. 20 at Saenger Hall.

COUNTRY CLUB HILLS JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Jaycees of Country Club Hills are working toward acquiring a franchise for Little League baseball in Country Club Hills. Tuesday, Nov. 17 at 8 p.m., a meeting will be held in Sanger hall Tinley Park, for all those interested in hearing more of this plan. Speaker for the evening will be Walter Leslie of Chicago who has had considerable experience with Little League. Emil Van Tichelt, director, extends as invitation in the name of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, to all interested residents of Country Club Hills to attend.

A wonderful evening was had with the CCH Jaycees at their first community Halloween dance, Oct. 31.

The VFW hall in Homewood was decorated with streamers, goblins, skeletons, bats, and pumpkins.

Ubangis, merry puppets, the devil, white hunters, prehistoric cave men and women, ghouls, vampires, farmers, chefs, waitresses, beatniks, and many more odd and varied characters flitted around the dance floor or just floated above their tables. A Mississippi riverboat gambler serves as master of ceremonies. Better known as Sheryl Sullivan.

TINLEY PARK UNIT

Last minute alterations and substitutions because of illness seemed no handicap to the eighth grade casts of French and Spanish skits when the students performed for the Tinley Park Parent Teacher Association last Friday night at Central school.

Overcoming the language barrier, the plots of the sketches were obvious and amusing. The cast of the French skit entitled "A La Gare", which was directed by Mrs. James Cheney and introduced by Louise Nielsen and Betty Rich, included Pat Brown, Robert Hult, Ann Rayson, Carl Jirka, Jack Nau ghton, Nancy Robinson, Phyllis Johnson, Pat Mason, Candy Wolfe, John Knudsen, and Brian Lillie. Loreley Jochum was narrator of "Hay Que Te'ner Paciencia", the Spanish sketch; and those students participating were: Michael Baskin, Kathleen McCrag, Joanne Anderson, Ted Lauterbach, Diana Valiga, Pamela Skwira, Richard Barton, and Tom Rauch. D.D. Peaslee was the director.

The presentations were examples of "Educational Profits--Elective Studies Achievements", the theme for the November P.T.A. program.

John R. Henneberry, principal of Central school, by way of introduction to the language skits, listed speech and drama, creative writing special reading, band, chorus, French and Spanish as the elective courses offered in the curriculum.

Henry F. Hoppe, assistant superintendent of County schools, and chairman of the Tri-county Educational TV Council, spoke on "This Age of Television", looking ahead to the era of airborne educational TV.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Irwin Johnson, scholarship chairman, giving a brief history of state P.T.A. scholarships, said that from the first scholarship in 1935, which amounted to $300, the funds have increased to justify an allowance of $63,000 in the current budget. This amount will provide a $250 scholarship for each school district in the state. In 1947, a special education scholarship fund was established which now provides scholarships in that area of teacher training, totaling $5,000. Mrs. Johnson, pointing out an immediate need, mentioned a proposed summer school scholarship for those in the teaching profession who would be interested in qualifying to work in the field of special education.

Urging parents to read the article, "Something Is Being Done About Pornography" by Estes Kefauver, which appeared in the October 1959 National Parent Teacher magazine, Mrs. Jervis Klepper, publications chairman, described the procedure for reporting obscene literature received through the mails.

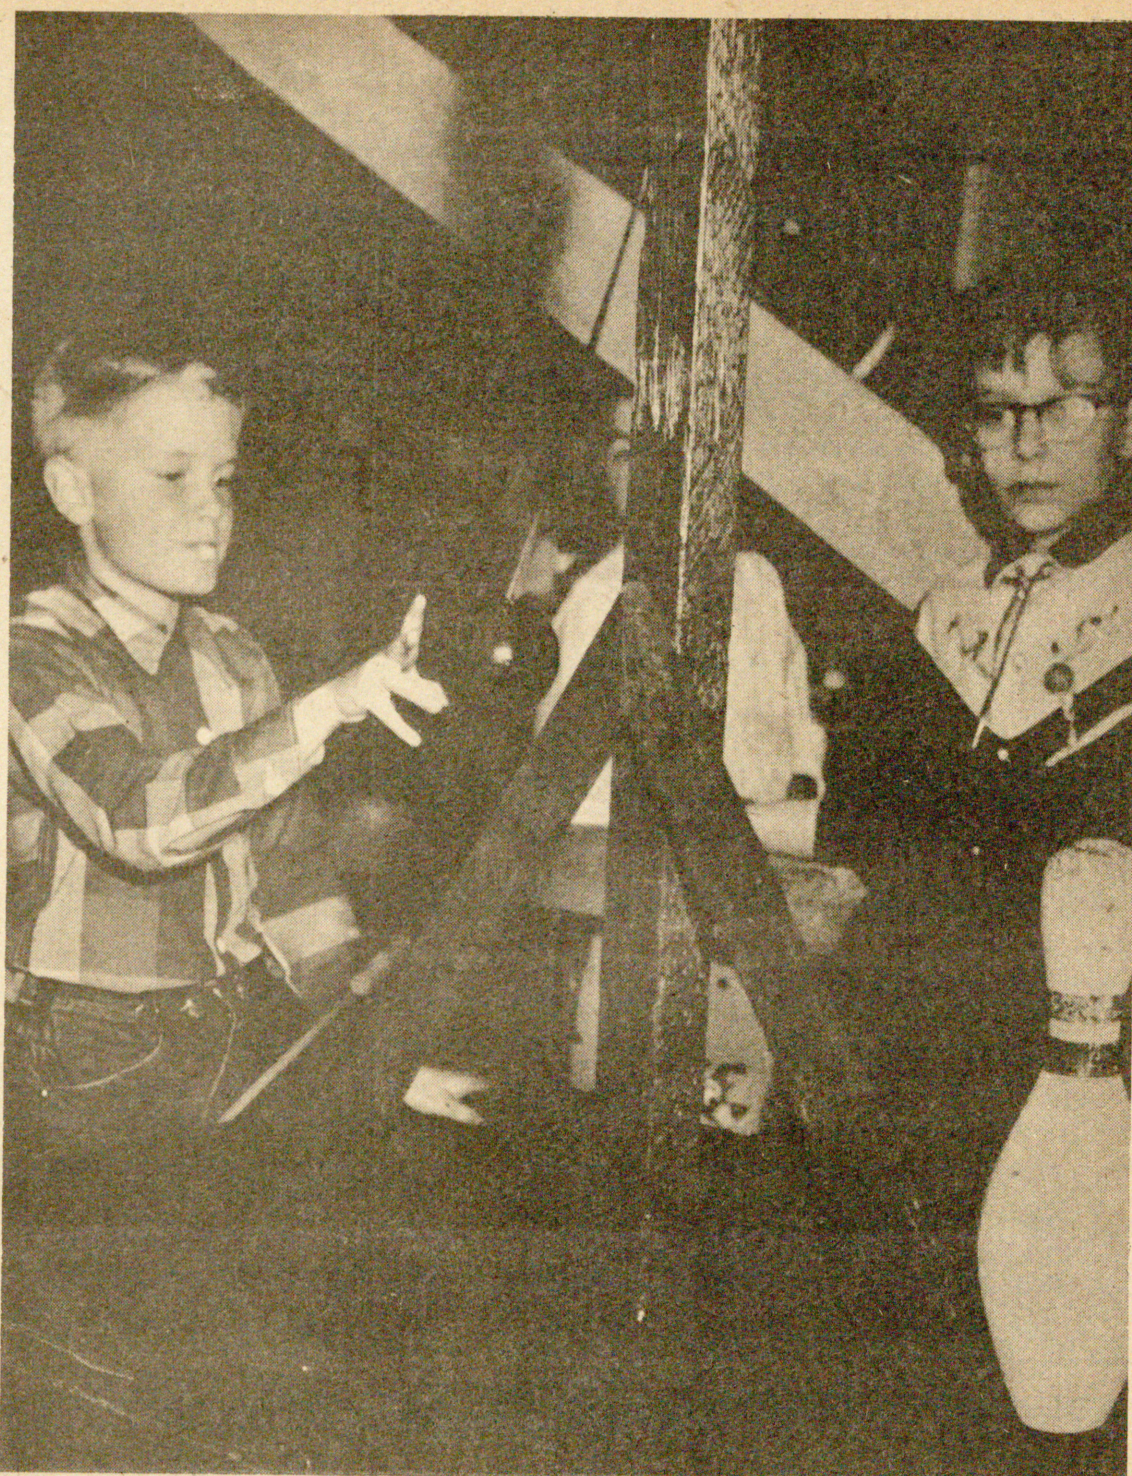

P.T.A. membership enrollment prizes went to Mrs. Phillip's room 100 in Central School, and Mrs. Lemke's room 107 in Bert Fulton school, the latter boasting over 100 representation. In naming the winners, Mrs. Alan Howie, membership chairman, announced a current P.T.A. membership of 609.

Recent fire safety evaluations revealed that the fire safety equipment in both schools is adequate and in good condition, according to Mrs. Walter Barton, safety chairman. She added that Bert Fulton school was evacuated in 45 seconds; and, Central school, a larger building on several levels, was cleared in one minute and 10 seconds during recent fire drills. Mrs. Barton showed the assembly the award received by the Tinley Park public school system for its bike safety program. She further announced that a baby sitters' instruction course will be offered after the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Charles Moore, ways and means chairman, extended her personal thanks to all of those who contributed their time and energy and for their material donations and patronage as well, for their part in making the annual Family Fun Night project a success.

Room count awards went to Mrs. Lemke's room in Bert Fulton school and Lynden DeYoung's room in Central school.

Mrs. Kenneth Schmudde, president, conducted the meeting, and Mrs. John Naughton, vice president was responsible for arranging the program.

SKILL AND PATIENCE--and a little bit of luck, as the son says, are needed to attain success in this game. Knocking the bowling pin down isn't as easy as it looks but Don Paulson, 8, who is drawing a head on the pin here will find the same thing is true of a lot of things in life. The young man looking on is his brother, Robert. (Marvin Smith photo)

The freshmen recently elected their class officers and student council representatives. They are John Marce, president; Judy Dunn vice president, and Barbara Gottlieb, secretary.

The student council representatives are: Doug Lavinn, Bill Wendlund and Barbara White.

FTA
The Lincoln-Way chapter of the Future Teachers of America is busy planning for national education week Nov. 9-13. Today, Nov. 12 a tea is to be given for all the faculty members. Students who are members of the FTA will conduct classes while the faculty sips tea. Thursday morning each teacher will be given a bright red apple. This is the FTA's way of expressing their gratitude for the faculty's fine job. Tonight a pot luck dinner will be held for all FTA members and their parents. The movie "And Gladly Teach" will be shown. A trip to Northern Illinois university and a trip to Wheaton college is on the agenda for next spring.

The sophomores and juniors will be given the annual testing program at Lincoln-Way Community high school Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 17 and 18.

The sophomores will receive the Iowa tests of educational development. This exam consists of nine separate tests, each of which deals with abilities important to success in high school. The nine areas are: correctness of expression, quantitative thinking, reading--social studies, reading-natural sciences, reading-literature, general vocabulary, and use of sources of information.

The juniors will take the Illinois statewide tests for juniors. This battery of eight tests is designed to give students information about their skills and abilities in certain lines.

The areas of examination are similar to the sophomore, but a bit more detailed, with emphasis on abstract reasoning.

PRINCIPALS TO MEET
The Illinois High School Association board of directors will meet at Lincoln-Way high school Thursday, Nov. 19 at 1:30 p.m. in one of its "Town Meeting" sessions. The board will hold its regular business meeting at Lincoln-Way at 9:30 a.m.

The "Town Meeting" is a session where the principals of the various schools meet with the board in an informal discussion session. The board will answer questions raised by the principals at the meeting.

Such things as problems in the area athletics, music and speech programs, student council and other non-athletic activities may well be topics for discussion at this meeting.

Just the high school principals in the area have been invited to attend this question and answer session on "Town Meeting."

A panel discussion was presented to the Lincoln-Way high school

PTG Nov. 4, about the American Field Services exchange student program.

The panel was composed of foreign exchange students and high schools of the area who had been aboard on grants from AFS.

The foreign students, told how they were selected, shared some of their experiences and impressions and told what they hope for the future.

Participating in the program were three exchange students: Hanna Heymann from Hannover, Germany, now at Lincoln-Way high school; Klaus Kieller from Hamberg, Germany; and Guy Columbo from Milan, Italy. The three American returnees were: Ded Duford who went to Switzerland from Wheaton, who is the Northern Illinois chairman of the 1959 returnees; John Berrett from Homewood who spent two months with two Dutch families; and Kay Gersich from Lincoln-Way high school, who spent the summer in Blaubeuren, Germany.

Hartley Taylor and Mrs. Ted Pesbak, both of Libertyville and offices of the AFS, explained the entire program of the AFS and how it was connected with the Illinois organization.

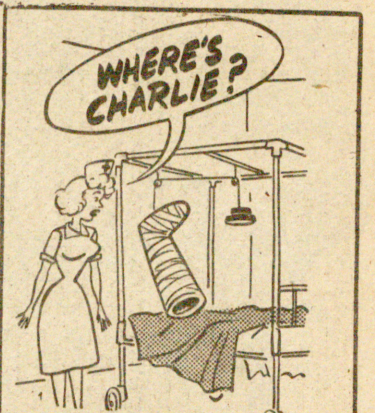

Safety Film

That the safety program in Tinley Park is effective may be evidenced by the fact that there has not been one accident at a school crossing within the past seven years.

To bring home to children the necessity for caution, a colored film will be shown at the Central school on Thursday, Nov. 12, under the sponsorship of the police department and the Cook county Traffic Safety Commission.

The film on safety will be shown to the children attending the Bert Fulton school at 11:30 a.m. and the second showing for children from St. George school at 1 p.m.

Police Officer Walter Barton is in charge of the program.

Farm Census Field Work Starts Today

Field work in the 1959 Census of Agriculture gets underway locally Thursday, Nov. 11, when a force of census takers will start visiting every farm in the area, it was announced today by Field Director Theodore F. Olson of the Census Bureau's regional office at Chicago.

Farm census questionnaires have been mailed to all farm operators. The census takers will visit all local farms to collect the questionnaires and, if necessary, assist the farmer in filling out the report form.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture is the 17th in a series of nation wide farm canvasses, the first of which was conducted in 1840. The Census of Agriculture is taken at five-year intervals to provide up-to-date statistical information about the nearly five million farms which supply food and raw materials for manufacture of goods used by the people of the United States, now numbering about 178 million. The current census will yield information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment and selected farm expenditures.

The field director emphasized that all information about individuals and their farm operations furnished to the Census Bureau is held in absolute confidence under Federal law. It is used only to provide summary figures such as totals, averages and percentages. The information on an individual report cannot be furnished to any one other than sworn census employees and thus cannot be used for investigation, taxation, or regulation.

Refer Rezoning Petitions To County Board Of Appeals

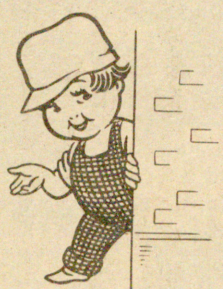

(CNS) The county board last week referred to its zoning board of appeals petitions for zoning changes on four parcels of property in Bloom, Orland, and Stickney townships.

The largest was 437 acres on the northeast corner of 199th st. and Burnham ave., running north to Glenwood-Lansing road, Bloom township. The Chicago Title and Trust Co., Trust 3308, asked it be changed from farming use to R-4 (Residences 10,000 sq. ft.)

In two related petitions, the same title holder asked that 12-1/3 acres on the east side of Burnham, 450 feet south of Glenwood-Lansing road, be changed from farming to B-1 (Business), and that 4 1/2 acres on the south side of Glenwood-Lansing road, 200 feet east of Burnham, be changed from farming to B-2 business, tavern and Amusement.

Forty acres on the southeast corner of 159th st. and 94th ave., Orland township were the subject of a petition by the Chicago Title and Trust Co., Trust 41067, for a change from farming to R-4 (Residence 10,000 square feet.)

Business & Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The statistical experts in the automotive field have calculated the percentage of national income that is spent on purchases of new automobiles on a yearly average basis. They have figures to show that the percentage of national income spent is constant and that if there is a public postponement in buying, the next year or two will compensate over average buying. The sales calculations for 1959 were around 6,000,000 cars and the prediction for 1960 is that it will be considerably above this figure. Both 1957 and 1958 were years of under buying in cars so the experts state.

The smaller and economical car is something that has been discussed for a number of years. Immediately following World War II, Kaiser brought out the "Henry J" as the answer to this demand for small compact automobiles. This car failed to catch on.

It is always difficult to explain or understand why one firm has achieved what another firm tried without success. American Motors with its Rambler did catch on and as of this date, the company has made a very considerable profit and over and above payment of all its debts accrued from leaner years.

One of the reasons for this firm's success is said to be its very aggressive push to secure distributors and being fortunate in doing so at a time when the old line cars were not selling well. The Senate had been investigating the manner in which the large automobile firms were controlling their distributors, and, in effect, forcing them to carry substantial inventories of cars when their sales were down as well as complete inventories of parts for those cars. In addition, their franchises would not permit of their selling other makes of cars or parts not authorized by the manufacturers. Many of these auto dealers sorely needed something to add to their line that would sell.

On the basis of government legal action against them and the testimony at the senate hearings, the auto manufacturers signed a consent decree which allowed their dealers to add other cars to the line, etc. Timing in any merchandising activity is always of vital importance and it is likely that the aggressive management of American Motors and market conditions coincided to aid them. In any case American Motors will probably earn more than $12 per share this year and is now debt free. The situation has been the sensation of the investment markets.

The situation as to Studebaker Packard is somewhat different. Sales of their cars have also greatly increased, but their financial position has not been as favorable. A few years ago some of the large creditors agreed to accept preferred stock in exchange for their creditor position. This change was made in order to create a financial picture that would permit of further borrowing to make an effort at a comeback. This preferred stock was made convertible into 33 shares of common stock as of January, 1961. The preferred stock is now selling at several hundred dollars per share due to the conversion feature. However in January, 1961 the total shares of common stock will be increased to close to double the present number of shares outstanding.

FHA Units Meet At Crete-Monee

The Carl Sandburg Future Home makers of America attended a FHA fall rally Oct. 19, in the Crete-Monee high school.

Elaine Yunker, Beth Boharski, and Nikki Emmons represented the Sandburg chapter.

The keynote speaker talked on teenage spending, emphasizing a need for a planned program.

After the general session representatives from each school went to discussion groups where they discussed different phases of FHA.

Section 20 teachers met during the same hours. Mrs. Milton Geuther, Mrs. William Cote and Mrs. Raymond Page attended from Sandburg.

Language Classes To Have Lab

When the new addition to Carl Sandburg high school is completed next year one of the features will be a foreign language laboratory. The sciences have had laboratory courses since time immemorial and now laboratories are being set up to aid in the teaching of languages.

Students in the regular German, Spanish and French classes will have opportunity, thru the tape recordings and other devices available in the laboratory, to improve their speech.

For one thing they can listen to a tape, repeat it themselves and then play the two back to compare their accent.

Originally this laboratory was planned to accommodate 10 students, but at the last regular meeting of the high school board Supt. W. O. Fisher recommended the laboratory be expanded to take care of 30 students.

This laboratory is being supported in part by federal funds. Only modern languages will be studied there, according to state school authorities.

Supt. Fisher also reported that the conversational German program being carried this year as a carry-over from the grade school program initiated last summer, is progressing satisfactorily. Fifth and sixth grade students from the elementary schools in the district met for 35 sessions in the summer under the direction of the Sandburg instructor in German, Jacob Voelker.

Jacob Voelker. Sixty-five of the original group of 76 that began the program are still meeting once a week for an hour and a half.

The board adopted the Teacher Career Plan and new salary schedule that is effective Feb. 20.

The board also approved bills totaling $35,205 and the Oct. 20th payroll of $21,765.

Lincoln-Way, Sandburg, Rich Players Picked On Both Teams

The 1959 edition of the SWS All-Star team was changed somewhat. The coaches selected two teams--offensive and defensive.

Bill Seavertson and Ed Smith of Lincoln-Way, along with Bob Aulwurm of Carl Sandburg, and Phil Wagner of Rich were the four players selected on both teams.

Seavertson was selected as prep lineman of the week by the Chicago American when he played such an important part in the Lincoln-Way upset victory over Rich. This was the only loss that Rich sustained through the entire season.

Bill probably made about 24 tackles in that ball game.

He and Wagner just missed by one of capturing all the coaches votes.

Ed Smith has been a sturdy tackle all year for the Knights. He along with Seavertson has been the bulk of defensive strength and have carried the brunt for punching holds in the enemy line of offense.

Aulwurm of the Eagles the best tackle for Joe DeVine. He was a special tower on the defense and helped to form the backbone of the finest line in the SWS. Joe DeVine's team yielded only a total of 43 points over this season in the SWS. Nearest was Rich and Lincoln-Way, almost double that total.

Lincoln-Way was the only school to have two players to make the dual squad by the coaches. Of course, Jonas Lashmet feels that these boys were the reason for Lincoln-Way's consistent good showing.

Phil Wagner was a big and strong defensive and good offensive end.

Carl Sandburg captured both the offensive and defensive centers however this was with different players. At offensive center from the Eagles was Dave Peterson and at defensive was Gary Kozbiel.

The Eagles also captured the fullback spot in the same manner that they did the center. Randy Cernick, powerful running fullback, was selected as the Conference offensive fullback. Dick Barry of Sandburg was defensive. Dick was a rugged defender.

The Sandburg team placed in other on the defensive squad in halfback Ted LaVine. Ted did quite a fine job of snatching enemy passes this season.

The preponderance of defensive selection favoring the Eagles is a reasonable one. Remember that Devine had the finest defensive unit in the SWS. Not one team was able to score more than two touchdowns against his club in one ball game and only two teams did this. In fact, the Eagles came up with three shut outs.

If the Sandburg offensive had not blown hot and cold, the Eagles would easily have captured the SWS crown.

Rich Norbut, SWS scoring leader, was the only Bremen player to make the offensive team. Rich certainly was one of the great halfbacks in the Conference. He was responsible for much of the ground gained at Braveville and also a good reason for the Bremen late season surge.

Rich Porter of Bremen was selected as the other defensive end, along with Phil Wagner.

On the offensive squad the Rich Rickets placed the most players with four--Sandburg had three. Along with Wagner the rockets put up guard Chuck McMans and backs Bob Sadek and John Rirordan. Gary Niese of Evergreen Park at an end rounded out the SWS offensive eleven.

Carl Sandburg placed four on the defensive team. Oak Lawn had Flip Pflaumer and Homewood-Flossmoor placed Phil Broughton.

Rich had Corkey Hughes for a second choice on the offensive team. Hughes was safety man.

Sandburg marched off with top honors as they place seven men on this dream team of the SWS.

SEASON END

The curtain came down Saturday on local high school gridirons and with it, of course, the rocking chair coaches come into season. Second guessers can have a picnic with this unpredictable season. It was a good one that brought a lot of talent to light that we are sure to hear from in future football seasons.

Now that our interests turn to basketball, we can look back at the football season and sum-it-with "It was a good one."

Good by until next season.

Tinley Park Church League To Open Season Next Tuesday

The Tinley Park Church Basketball League will open on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17 at the Central Grade school gym at 7 o'clock.

A 12-game schedule has been slated for the four teams entered; St. George, Zion Lutheran, Nazarene, and Methodist.

In the opening game at 7:00 p.m. the Nazarene and Methodists will start shooting. St. George and Zion Lutheran will finish the evening at the 8:30 p.m. starting time.

However, the nets will not be quite as busy tonight as they will be later on in the season.

In about two and half weeks things will get moving in basketball and on Dec. 4 the SWS teams will swing into Conference action.

How about that speculation! Who shall win the conference basketball struggle? Bremen is the pick of many to take the crown once again from the Rich Rockets.

Coach Bill Brown will have two starting players returning from last years up-and-down five, but he adds some fine material from last year's all conquering frosh-soph team.

Bremen's title chances rest on the development of the three juniors who will come in to replace the losses due to graduation. Many observers feel that they will be able to outshine the stars of last year by mid-season. That remains to be seen.

Don't pick Bremen yet. They look plenty good on paper and could be the team to go all the way.

As is the case in football, the SWS will be more difficult in basketball this next year than it was last year. Homewood-Flossmoor will not be the dormant in basketball that they were in football. Lincoln-Way perennial tail-ender will be plenty stiff this season--as they were in football.

Joe Kruzich's five will be strong and lost only one player to graduation, he was the lowest scoring regular on the squad. However, there are a few boys who shuttled back and forth from the frosh-soph to the varsity that should give the needed lift. "Skip" Kruzich should develop into a more capable basketball player this year. He was a great shooter last year, but was quite young as a sophomore. He should have plenty of class for a junior.

Bill Adam's Carl Sandburg dribblers can not go backward. Bill's two top ball players on last year's squad are returning in Don Arnold and Jerry McBride. Both of these fellows with improvement that should come will Adams to a stronger finish last year.

Remember, pessimist Adams, had his team up in the top section of the loop for a long time last season.

Both the Knights and the Eagles are a year or more from stronger teams. Lincoln-Way's year should be in the 1960-61 season.

However, if youth get blending--look out. Joe Devine brought a group of youngsters through the football season with a rather good record at Carl Sandburg. So the Eagles would be able to look forward to another good football team in the next season.

Our section will show some real class in the SWS basketball race. In football, no team found them easy to beat. Lincoln-Way definitely made its best conference showing in football. The won-loss record did favor them, but no one really beat the Knights.

American Legion Holds Membership Campaign

"Who is eligible to belong to The American Legion?"

That's the big question being asked this week, as the Frankfort American Legion Post 1098 moves into the second week of its "Join The American Legion during Veterans Recognition Month" membership campaign.

Court Orders Orland Board To Approve Fernway Plat

(CNS) A writ of mandamus ordering Orland Park officials to approve a plat of subdivision of land 1 1/2 miles outside the village has been issued by Circuit Judge Frank H. Bickel.

The judge said Fernway Construction company fulfilled all requirements in submitting the plat for signatures of the village president, village clerk, and the chairman of the village plan commission. The signatures are required by law before the county board will pass on a plat.

In this case, Orland Park's approval is needed because the limits of the village's 1 1/2 mile jurisdiction falls on the property at an angle bisecting the land. The plat establishes four lots of a half acre each, located at the northeast corner of 161st street and 88th ave.

Village officials had refused to approve the plat on grounds it did not conform to village requirements for curbs and gutters and streets according to village specifications.

The court held this village ordinance is not applicable in this case because much of the property is outside of the 1 1/2 mile radius of municipal influence. The company argues the village demands were "unreasonable and arbitrary."

The suit was filed in August, a month after the village sent notice approval of the plat wasn't forthcoming.

School Bands Plan Concerts

A concert by the Frankfort grade school band is to be held in the school gymnasium on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22, it was announced by Perry Friedman, director. The program will begin at 2 o'clock.

There will be a variety of selections, including popular pieces. Terry Logan, who plays the trumpet, is to be soloist and will play "Come Back to Sorrento."

Mr. Friedman, who also is director of the Mokena grade school band, said the Mokena group would give a concert Dec. 6 in the Mokena grade school gymnasium.

Thomas Hamilton, a trumpet player, will be the soloist and will also play "Come Back to Sorrento." A trumpet trio will also perform at the Mokena concert, playing "March of the Minstrelmen."

Both concerts will be free but admission will be thru tickets distributed thru the schools.

Studies State School Loan Possibilities

Faced with the need of expanding its facilities to meet a steadily growing enrollment the Orland Park grade school board has discussed the problem with the Illinois school building commission.

If the district qualifies for aid from this state body the question then resolves itself into whether the board should seek to obtain it, it was brought out at the last regular meeting of the board of education.

The board has turned the matter over to its attorney for further study before any action is taken.

School Loan Possibilities

The Illinois school building commission was established by the legislature to erect schools for districts unable to provide such facilities for lack of bonding power to provide necessary funds.

The Country Clubs Hills school district was one of the first in the state to be helped by the commission. This district has one school already completed thru state funds. The loan from the state is repaid over 16 and two-thirds year period. Payments are like rent and there are no interest charges. The district, of course, must pay all maintenance costs but then it was pointed out, it would have to do this under any circumstances. Elimination of interest charges, it was emphasized, reduces the cost of a school substantially.

One of the qualifications for such state aid is the exhaustion of a district's bonding power.

The Orland Park grade school board opened an eight-room addition to the existing school in September, 1958. There were six rooms in the old building so there are now 14 classrooms to serve the 410 pupils.

A former garage, which was converted into a classroom, will again be used as a part of the school.

The only remaining space where a classroom may be provided on a temporary basis will be the lunch room, library and a space off the gymnasium. These would be sub-standard classrooms, Supt. Norbert Jerling pointed out.

When the addition was opened last year the board hoped it would suffice until 1961. According to the school census taken last spring by the PTA more classrooms will be needed by next September.

Kenneth A. Halvorson, president of the board, said that he and his fellow members are definitely interested in the possibility of getting a state building loan.

Texas Cow Girls Basketball Team To Play At L-W

Math Students Enter Contest

Two Carl Sandburg High School junior students have entered the Future Engineers of America mathematics contest and have taken the first test in a local tournament.

John Kunz, Palos Heights and Charles Kallstrom, Palos Park submitted their entries for consideration in the National Tournament to be held Nov. 27, at the Conrad Hilton, Chicago.

Both students are currently enrolled in the accelerated mathematics curriculum at Carl Sandburg which enables a student to show five credits in mathematics at the completion of four years in school.

Approximately 6,000 students in some 600 schools in 32 states took the first local test. From this group, ten per cent will be selected in each age group classification for participation in the national tournament.

DO-IT-YOURSELF SHELTER PROJECT

BASEMENT SHELTERS generally are the least expensive type that will give substantial protection. The basement shelter shown here can be built with solid concrete blocks as a do-it-yourself project for $150 to $200. Standard 8-inch solid concrete blocks are recommended because hollow blocks would have to be filled with concrete to give effective protection. Bricks are an alternative. If they are used, the walls and roof should be 10 inches thick to give the same protection as 8-inch solid concrete blocks. Plans for this do-it-yourself project appear in "The Family Fallout Shelter," OGD booklet. Copies may be obtained from Box Home Shelter, OGD, Battle Creek, Michigan.

UNDERGROUND CONCRETE SHELTER

For Family Protection From Radioactive Fallout

AN UNDERGROUND reinforced concrete shelter like this can be built for about $1,000 to $1,500 by a contractor. The illustration shows the shelter with roof at ground level and mounded over. The same shelter could be built into an embankment or below ground level. For plans write: Box Home Shelter, Battle Creek, Mich.

Club Will Contribute To Care Program

The Orland Park Woman's club is one of 16,000 member clubs of the General Federation of Women's clubs throughout the nation, which will celebrate Thanksgiving by helping people in other lands to help themselves thru "Care".

As part of a national "We Count Our Blessings" program sponsored by the GFWC the local group will dedicate its meeting on Nov. 18 to the observance, it was announced by Mrs. Karl Ekberg, past president, now vice president of the club. Each member will participate in a candle-lighting ceremony, during which she will give thanks for her own blessings by making a contribution to "Care". The Thanksgiving project is the holiday activity in support of the GFWC "Care" campaign to provide training opportunities to people in underdeveloped countries. It was suggested by Miss Chloe Gifford, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, after a world tour where she and members of the Federation visited areas supported by the GFWC "Care" projects.

In this state, Federated clubs have identified their interests with Korea as their program. All funds raised for the campaign are used to provide Care self-help packages for greater opportunities to people, institutions and villages in that country.

The Thanksgiving observance has been planned primarily as a club responsibility, but public participation will be warmly welcomed, Mrs. Karl Ekberg said. Contributions sent to her for this campaign will be forwarded in the name of Orland community and the club.

gave a concise account of the state convention of King's Daughters which she recently attended at Moline. Reports of the count meeting at Wilmington were also heard and Mrs. E. A. Cary reported on the work being done at the Iannah Harwood Club in Joliet. Mr. Geo. Burcham and Mrs. James Elvig served delicious desert-cake on a table appropriately decorated for the Thanksgiving season. Plans were made for the Circle's Christmas luncheon which will be held in the home of Mrs. Ray Carlson on Dec. 3.

Mrs. Don Aspel spent several days last week in the home of her sister at Princeton.

Several Homer relatives of the former Miss Karen Colegrove of Fairmont, attended her wedding to Floyd Colasky of East Lansing, Michigan which took place at Fairmont Methodist church on Oct. 24. Her cousins, Claude C. and Charles Colegrove of here, acted as ushers.

Miss Dew Daley, a retired Joliet high school teacher, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Homer School club Thursday evening, Nov. 19, at the school, and will show slides of her recent trip around the world. On Raking Leaves Proper form is essential if one is to obtain maximum results from a minimum of effort. Instructors in various sports are the great ones for form. And it pays off too.

There is some room for debate perhaps as to whether form players or the hunch variety reap the greatest rewards when it comes to turf investments but by and large form pays off in practically all endeavors.

The sports editors, as is only natural, pay more attention to this form question than the heads of other departments in today's newspaper. They run pictures and diagrams showing the right form for holding and swinging golf clubs, baseball bats, pole vaulting, hurdling, swimming, bowling etc., etc.

One can excuse financial editors, and real estate editors for passing up form as there are no specified stances that we know of for stockbrokers or subdivision salesmen to assume in making their pitch. Editors of women's pages sometimes show recommended form for applying cold cream but the news side is like financial and real estate--there is little chance for the form pictures.

However, at this time of year the news side could come up with a series of pictures illustrating the proper form in leaf raking, followed by a set showing how to grip and swing a snow shovel.

One of these days we plan to get an opinion from William F. Whiteside, associate farm advisor for Cook county, and A. A. Wicklin, farm adviser for Will county, as to the best grip to employ when using the standard, metal pronged rake--the interlocking, the overlapping or the baseball grip. We are far, far, far from being an authority on the subject but we would guess that when employing a broom-type rake of bamboo or wire one might use a light, finger grip similar to that of concert violinists or topflight billiard players.

Not everyone uses a rake to clear lawns of leaves. The more affluent householders have gone in for those sweeper jobs, with the rotating brushes that push the leaves back into a canvas do-hickey. On lawnmowers they call such things grass catchers so on this contrivance it is probably termed a leaf catcher.

This saves a lot of back bending but one still has to get rid of the leaves. Personally we favor the wind-blown method of leaf disposal or if one's lawn lies so that it is protected against strong breezes why not leave the leaves lay. Someone once told us they make a mulch and mulch is supposed to improve the soil.

We would not like to leave the impression that we fall back on the wind to rid our premises of leaves because of laziness. Not at all. It is just that we want to be law abiding.

Remember that men! As far as we have been able to ascertain every community in the area has an ordinance forbidding bonfires of any type, including the burning of leaves. So when the little woman makes pointed remarks about napping, sitting or watching football on TV instead of raking leaves, stand up for your rights. Don't be a lawbreaker!

On Second Thot

GLENN F. LOGAN
When one says that Americans own and operate more mechanical devices than any other people on this earth, it is not likely that any one will come forward to seriously debate the assertion.

It is an established fact that we do have more contrivances than do the people of any other nation but at the same time one must admit that in conjunction with this field there is a point at which fact gives way to fancy--the fancy being that Americans as a people are born mechanics.

This belief probably stems from the frequently repeated phrases alluding to American genius, American inventiveness, American dexterity, American know-how, plus the wonders worked by American farmers with a piece of baling wire and the wonders worked by American women with bobby and hairpins.

Thus we have the fact that we fancy ourselves able to cope with any mechanical problem. Every American male between the ages of four and 84 is convinced that he is a mechanic, well able to penetrate the innermost secrets of any and all devices.

The enormous sale of do-it-yourself kits attests to this belief in their mechanical powers--which even their failures did not dim.

Not only do most American men believe themselves to be mechanics but are willing to believe all their friends and neighbors possess similar ability.

Which brings me up to the case of a couple of friends of mine. Not Pat and Mike because they aren't Irish so let's call them Jim and Harry, if for no other reasons than those are their names.

Jim, whose mechanic's diploma was won by his discovery that a long stick was better than a short hand in spreading dough in a cracker mill, acquired his master's rating, oiling folders on a printing press. Harry, an ex-navy veteran won numerous ratings for his mechanical know-how, enjoys considerable renown for his work in adding a gear to a lime squeezer so it can be worked easily with either hand.

Last week the two were discussing improvements that could be made in the automotive field when Jim voiced a problem of his own.

His car, he said, was giving him a bit of trouble. It seems that when he closed either of the front doors after getting in the car in normal fashion the lid of the trunk flew open. If he closed the doors from the outside the trunk lid held fast.

This would have gone over big in a magic act, he said but driving down streets or highways with the lid of his trunk open drew stares from pedestrians as well as motorists, and besides it shut off his view of vehicles coming from behind. And backing into a parking space by dead reckoning, he opined, was quite a trick in navigation.

After hours of experimenting the only solution he could arrive at was to lock the trunk and lock the doors of the car, leaving the window down in one of the rear doors, thru which he contrived to clamber.

This mode of entry was not only odd but also hard on the chest, abdomen, arms and shins, Jim said. And he was doubtful he could continue to use the process after he began wearing an overcoat. It also evoked curiosity from passers-by and some of the comments were actually rude, he added.

Getting in the car during a rain, Jim said, was quite unpleasant. There are a few seconds during his entry when he is thrashing his legs about in the air while clawing for a purchase on the floor in front of the rear seat and during that interval the rain runs down his pant legs.

After getting into the rear seat he still had to roll over into the front seat but at least that part of the maneuver was out of the weather.

This writer's suggestion that the problem could be easily solved by going to a garage or body shop and getting the trunk lock fixed was received coldly.

Nor was an alternate proposal that Jim take a course in tumbling and acrobatics to better facilitate his entry into the car any more welcome.

Jim was satisfied he could fix it, if Harry would give him a hand. Harry was not only willing to give a hand but would take over the job entirely. He knew just what to do because he remembered once in the navy of fixing the door on a captain's cabin. The door was always flying open but Harry fixed it and while he did not say so in so many words one somehow got the idea that unless he dove thru a porthole there is a ship tied up in some navy yard fully equipped with a built-in skipper.

Jim accepted the offer and in a few minutes Harry was on the job with two screw drivers--a long and a short--on ordinary claw hammer, six assorted wrenches, a recalling his work on the paper folder, furnished a can of oil.

In less than 15 minutes Harry was finished. Jim opened the front doors of the car, climbed in, and slammed the doors. The trunk lid stayed down. He repeated the maneuver numerous times. The trunk lid still held.

It is still holding but now Jim is faced with a new problem. His spare tire, his bumper jack and a box containing some business papers are in the trunk. He has had a puncture and he has needed some of his papers but the trunk just won't open.

Harry is going to have another fling at it. Maybe this time he will be able to fix it so when Jim closes the trunk lid the front doors will fly open.

That is--of course--providing Harry is able to get the trunk open but remembering that shut-in navy captain we wonder.

Fernway Given O.K. On Water-Sewer Service

(CNS)--The Fernway Utility company has obtained an Illinois Commerce Commission certificate to extend water and sewer service to a new section of Fernway subdivision near Orland Park.

There are about 117 home building sites in the new section that covers about 80 acres. A total of 218 homes are in various stages of construction and planning in the initial 140 acre tract in the subdivision at 159th street and 88th avenue.

Wins $52,000 Settlement From Railroad

(CNS) A west side father of five won a $52,000 settlement from the Rock Island Lines in Federal court Monday for a partial paralysis of one arm resulting from an accident at Oak Forest one week after he went to work as a section hand.

Rigoberto Cabrera, 36 years old, 3832 West Washington st., who came here from Mexico City in 1956, settled his case through Attorney Philip H. Corboy after two days of trial before U.S. District Judge Michael L. Igoe of his suit asking $100,000.

On Oct. 10, 1957, Cabrera was getting off a tamping machine when struck by an east-bound passenger train near Oak Forest. He spent one month in St. Francis hospital, Blue Island, with a fractured right arm, and suffers from a partial paralysis of the radial nerve.

According to Attorney Corboy, the railroad has already paid $2,000 medical expenses and is going to pay for another operation in an effort to correct the paralysis, in addition to the settlement.

Ohio State University economists predict an increase of about five per cent or more in U.S. consumer spending during 1960.

Joseph Chapman became California's first commercial wine grower in 1824 when he set out 4,000 vines near the Pueblo of Los Angeles in 1824.

An Open House was held at the shop all day Sunday, at the home of the new owner, Dan Martin, 23 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Martin, Lincoln Highway. The new green house and shop built by Dan and his brother, Dave, is located 2 1/2 miles east of New Lenox. Dan, also a landscape architect, will supply flowers for all occasions, weddings are his specialty.

Dan has worked as a designer for several of the florists in Joliet, while he attended high school there for four years and also worked in Urbana during his three years of college at the University of Illinois. The Martins have lived in New Lenox for 11 years.

Refreshments were served to the guests and flowers were presented to the ladies Sunday.

Guests included Ellen Hopkins, of Lockport, Mary Grotewald and Leona Guzik of Frankfort, Gene Cline and Gordon Case of Manhattan, and David Larson of New Lenox. All are Lincoln -Way juniors except Ellen Hopkins who recently moved to Lockport. The young people enjoyed a special supper from a gaily decorated Halloween table. During the evening games, charades, and music were enjoyed by the costumed guests. The girls completed the night with a slumber party with Karen.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and Mrs. Carl Mietsner gave the treasurer's report. A motion was made and seconded to give a $10. donation to the library. Plans were also made to hold the annual Christ mas party on a Saturday in December, the date to be announced later. Committee appointed for this party were: Mesdames Dale Drake, Harold Dailey, Larry Green man and G. T. Roesel. The date for the November meeting was moved one week due to the Thanks giving holiday.

Speaker for the evening, Mrs. William Minuth, talked about dance instruction for the young child.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a straw cornucopia overflowing with fall flowers.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dale Drake with Mrs. G. Roesel assisting.

There are 37 members in the selective group at present, representing freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Stan received an Illinois State scholarship upon graduation from Lincoln-Way and has been awarded a LaVerne Noyes scholarship at Bradley during the two years he has been there. He is a sophomore in the college of engineer-

CD To Pick 'Ham Of Year'

The 7th annual search is now on for the "ham of the year"—the amateur radio operator who performed the most outstanding public service in 1959, Maj. Gen. Robert M. Woodward, state civil defense director, announced today.

National recognition, a $500 gift, a handsome trophy, and an expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C., are in store for the winner of the Edison Radio Amateur Award contest for 1959, sponsored annually by the General Electric Company.

General Woodward urged a search be made to find a winner from Illinois' over 8,000 amateur radio operators. Any individual, club or association may nominate a licensed amateur operator. The "ham" who demonstrated the highest degree of ingenuity and personal sacrifice in performing a personal service to the public will most likely win.

Contest guides are available from the Edison Award Committee, General Electric Co., Owensboro, Kentucky. Nominations should be sent to that address, with a copy to Illinois Civil Defense, 57th Street and South Shore Drive, Chicago, before January 4, 1960.

Full details should be provided on the candidate, his call letters, and the public service performed.

White wall tires were specified on 55.2 per cent of all new cars purchased in 1958. Among automobile owners who replaced their tires, 40.8 per cent specified white walls.
